FOREWORD

Following the example set by the Class of Nineteen-fifteen, we, the staff of the Nineteen-twenty-six CHSITE, attempt to give our class and friends a memento of our high school days. We have exerted every effort to make this book measure up to the high standard set by the class of '26, and we hope it will be cherished and appreciated.

BEULAH EVELYN ALLEN
"Beau"

Cary, North Carolina

"When she will, she will, and you can depend on it."

A jolly good friend is Beulah. She always does her part in everything and does it well. Her dependability assures her success. Just imagine the class of '26 without Beulah! It can't be done.

Lowell Society; Treasurer of Society '26; Vice President of Society '26; Science Club; Alternate Commencement Debater '25; Dramatic Club; Society Reporter for Echoes '26.

JAMES ALFRED BASHAW
"Farmer" "Jimmie"

*"As from a bear a man would fly for his life,
So fly I from her who would be my wife."*

"Farmer," one of the youngest members of our class, has a sunny disposition and never worries about anything, except getting a seat on the back row in French. He is a good student, a valuable member of his class, and without him the CHSITE could not go to press. We understand "Farmer" is going to take up banking as his life work, and Cary could do no better than secure him as its banker.

GLADYS LUCISA BLAYLOCK
"Gladys"

Cary, North Carolina

"If work will do it, she'll win."

We are sure Gladys will make a success in life. She is always willing and ready to do whatever task may come her way. We do not wish to have any big arguments with Gladys, for we know she will always do her best to debate her point. Here's wishing her great success in all her undertakings.

CHSITE

LORENA BRASWELL

"Shorty"

Cary, North Carolina

"Not much talk—a great sweet silence."

Lorena says little, but she means that little. Though quiet and unobtrusive, she has that individual charm which attracts every one with whom she comes in contact. She is a friend to be trusted and desired.

Lowell Society.

LONNIE CROCKER BATTIS

"Lonnie"

Cary, North Carolina

"Small in stature, but often wise in judgment."

Lonnie has thought things over, and after naming his sparring partner "Farmer Burns," he turned to his books with a determination to win, and he has. Short in stature, but long in honest, hard work, Lonnie has the name of a dependable fellow. We predict Lonnie to be a farmer, and with his egg-plants, chicken farms will be reduced to a minimum. Lonnie will live in the minds of us all.

Editor-in-Chief C. H. S. Echoes; Clay Society; Joke Editor CHSITH.

MARY LAZZIE CAMPBELL

"Mamie"

Cary, North Carolina

"A cheerful countenance turneth away gloom."

Behold here is a girl of true worth; industrious, generous, and agreeable. Mamie holds a place in the hearts of all. Cheerfulness characterizes her but with it she is faithful and punctual to duty.

Lowell Society; Science Club.

LUCY ANN CLIFTON
"Dixie"

Raleigh, North Carolina

*"She does her task from day to day
And meets whatever comes her way."*

Although Lucy lives nearer Raleigh than Cary, we believe she somehow likes Cary the best. Lucy is never seen fussing or pouting. She always has a smile for every one. She takes part in the school fun, but not until her lessons are first prepared. We are sure she will make a success in all her undertakings.
Lowell Society.

DWIGHT WRAY BENNETT
"Dwight"

Cary, North Carolina

"He thinks too much, such men are dangerous."

Although Dwight has not been with us steadily during our four years, his companionship has been warmly felt. He has great thinking capability and lucky will be the man who receives his services. "Au revoir" to you Dwight, and good luck.

MARY DABNEY CRADDOCK
"Mary"

Cary, North Carolina

"A girl of few words who spends half her time minding her own business and the other half leaving other people's alone."

Mary is quiet, reserved, and dignified, and a true friend and companion to those who know her well. What her ambition is probably few know. Every one, however, is sure that she has an ambition, and is equally sure, with her steadfastness and sincerity, she will attain her goal.

CHSITE

HELEN LOUISE DAVIS

"Topsy"

New Bern, North Carolina

"I'll be merry; I'll be free; I'll be sad for nobody."

Here is a jolly good girl who always makes her presence agreeably felt wherever she goes. "Topsy" has won much popularity throughout the student body, and when it comes to a cheer leader why "Topsy" is the one. She is always on hand to keep the athletic teams braced up with lively yells. Our wishes for her are that she will live long, keep her present good-humor, get what she likes and like what she gets.

Lowell Society; Secretary Society '26; Science Club; Girls' Reserve; Basketball; Cheer Leader; Joke Editor Echoes; Commencement Debater '26.

RADCLIFFE LEWIS CAVINESS

"Radcliffe"

Cary, North Carolina

*"Women inspire us to do great things,
But prevent us from carrying them out."*

Radcliffe has been with us only for a year, but in so short a time he has become a trusted friend. Caviness is an all-round fellow and does not fall short in athletics. We shall not be surprised to hear of Caviness again some day as a great preshier. His parts are always played and played well. Keep it up, "O' boy," the Class of '26 is with you.

Basketball '25.

RUBY ERIS DUKE

"Rudy"

Raleigh, North Carolina

"She is a winsome wee thing."

Ruby's winning manner and sweet disposition have endeared her to the hearts of all her classmates and the whole school.

Such a charming personality is rare.

CORA ALICE GILLESPIE
"Snooks"

Cary, North Carolina

"Too much studying is a dangerous thing."

Although Cora Alice does not believe in too much studying she always gets by. Cora Alice is a happy-go-lucky girl and always seems satisfied with the world.

Lowell Society; Science Club.

ROBERT EDWARD CURTIS
"Bob"

Cary, North Carolina

"Let us so live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry."

We will say that if "Bob" continues to live as he has he will be a creditable addition to some college in the fall. He is a friend indeed and a good scout and one of our best athletes. "Bob" is a friend to every one—what is better.

LUCY CLYDE GRAY
"Lucy Clyde"

Cary, North Carolina

"Silence is wisdom. I am silent then."

Lucy Clyde is a quiet, serious girl and a somewhat dignified senior. She never talks unless called on and always has something worth while to say. She listens mostly to the chatter of others and profits thereby. Some college will gain a worker next autumn.

Lowell Society; Associate Editor of Echoes.

CHSITE

NANCY BELVIN HARDEN
"Bee"

Raleigh, North Carolina

"Pleasure and action make hours seem short."

"Bee" is always ready for a good time, and as she lives near she takes advantage of every opportunity to go home, leaving as soon as possible and coming back as late as possible. She came to Cary this year as a Junior, but found the role of Senior more pleasing to her even if it did require more work. "Bee" with her "Charleston" is responsible for the rumor of broken links, which we hear has been current among the dormitory girls.

Lowell Society; Dramatic Club.

JUDD WILSON DANIEL
"J. W."

Wake Forest, North Carolina

"Whenever it comes to playing, you'll find him ready for fun; But also ready when there's work to be done."

Good natured, easy-going, yet serious, Judd has come to the end of his high school career with a multitude of friends who truly hate to see him go. He is one who can keep a mean between two extremes. His athletic ability has been shown as captain of the Basketball squad. Such a well-rounded sort of a person will be missed by a large group who know him.

HILMA ELAINE HOLLEMAN
"Bill"

Cary, North Carolina

"There is no wisdom like frankness."

Throughout her four years of high school Elaine has been a good student, and we think of her as one who thinks for herself. She is not easily influenced by others from the fact that she has withstood the epidemic of bobbed hair.

Lowell Society; Science Club.

CHSITE

BESSIE ELIZA JACKSON
"Bessie"

Neuse, North Carolina

"The mildest manners and the gentlest heart."

A girl more generous-hearted than Bessie is hard to find, and though she is naturally reserved and quiet, her fine traits have won her many friends.

Lowell Society.

WILLIAM HENRY DRY
"Bill"

"My beauty did haunt me in my sleep."

It is hard to find words for "Bill," a true scholar and friend to all. He is one of the school's leading athletes and is always ready to learn more about athletics, especially girls' basketball. Bill has found a place in each and every heart and we, his classmates, heartily give to him our sincere friendship.

CLARA LOUISE JOHNSON
"Louise"

Cary, North Carolina

"Grieving's a jolly, come let's be jolly."

Louise has many friends in Cary. She always meets one with a smile and has a cheerful word. We are afraid that her smiles are the cause of some boys being campused. To some people thirteen is unlucky, but with Louise it is always lucky. We wish her as much luck in the future as she has had in the past.

"Martha"

Cary, North Carolina

*"Not too serious, not too gay,
But a jolly good girl in every way."*

Marta Selma is a good student, an ideal pal and a faithful friend. She is always ready and willing to do anything to help one. We wonder what the Lowell Society will do without her as a pianist and debater. We wish her the best of success in the future.

ALTON FETNER

"Barney"

Raleigh, North Carolina

"When angry count four. When very angry siccar."

Even if Barney has been with us only one year he is one of the most popular fellows in school. Every one knows him and every one likes him. Maybe somebody loves him, but that isn't for us to know. During his short stay here he has been a true patriot of C. H. S. You are a good addition to the gang of '26, "Barney."

MARY JOSEPHINE NIPPER

"Mary"

Neuse, North Carolina

If silence is golden, Mary must certainly be a miser, for she says but little. Mary is a true friend to those who have come to know her. She does not believe in studying any more than she has to.

LOLA BEATRICE NORTHCUTT

"Soockey"

Cary, North Carolina

"Her heart is not in her work—'tis elsewhere."

We have the distinction of having a "boll weevil" in our class, although "Soockey" has been with us only two years she has made many friends among her classmates. We are all sure she will make some business man an excellent stenographer, but we know she will not be compelled to earn her own living always.

Lowell Society; Dramatic Club.

JOHN GRAHAM HARRIS

"John G."

Fairview, North Carolina

"Noise proves nothing."

A "good egg," a hard worker, a ladies' man and as independent as Thomas Jefferson, John has much interest in his life's work, and we feel confident that when the time comes to consider the men who will lead his profession to the front, he will be in the front ranks.

MARGARET WILLIAMS RAY

"Baby Ray"

Raleigh, North Carolina

"A sure cure for the blues."

What would we do without "Baby Ray" and her ready wit and jolly laugh? She has been with us several years and each year she grows jollier in proportion to her size. She is a great prophesier as is seen in the fact that she is author of the class prophecy. She has been a good student and we prophesy a brilliant career for her.

"Better to be conceited and know something, than humble in ignorance."

"Bill" is a good natured fellow who makes us all feel good when we meet him. He has qualities which make him a man, and which are sure to make him succeed at whatever he undertakes. He is an average student and the possessor of a receptive mind. His melodious voice and attractive personality have won for him a large circle of friends, all of whom are wishing him great success.

EDITH EVELYN SHERWIN
"Eveline"

Raleigh, North Carolina

"The strongest minds are often those of whom the world hears least."

The casual observer might call "Eveline" a quiet, dignified girl, but to know her well is to change one's mind completely. Her friends know her to be full of life and fun. "Eveline" has been with us four years and we consider ourselves fortunate to have her graduate with us. During her stay she has proven to be diligent, industrious and capable of any trust.

THOMAS SEXTON LAWRENCE
"Tom"

Apex, North Carolina

"Ever willing and capable to do whatever he undertakes."

Everybody likes Thomas. Who would not, with his friendly disposition? He is not at all afraid of work, as his school work proves. If you were to ask him which one of his studies he liked best he would probably say history, as he is never happier than when doing notebook work. With his capability and willing disposition, we feel that the future holds much in store for him.

LUCY GLENN STEPHENS

SARAH GERTRUDE STRAUGHAN

"Gertrude"

Raleigh, North Carolina

*"Speech is but the golden harvest that

Many think Gertrude is a little too extravagant with her vocabulary, though some say that her eloquent flow of words is her most coveted accomplishment. She does not confine her oratory to one thing alone, but wherever she may be, her opinion on any topic under discussion is always heard and welcomed. She is a friend to all and is always on the "spot" when any one is in need. Lowell Society; Science Club; Girls' Reserve; Vice President Science Club; Dramatic Club; President Society '26.

MELZER ABRON MORGAN

"Melzer"

Cary, North Carolina

*"To dig up French and Latin roots
I did not come to school."*

Melzer is little, but loud, and lives up to all requirements. He is confident in speech, which will carry him a long way, provided he backs it up, and this will surely be done. Melzer is a fine fellow, barring nothing; the ladies will vouch for this. He stars in his books and on the agricultural team; so will he star in life. Clay Society; Crop Judging Team '25.

NELLIE IRMA WALDO

"Nell"

Cary, North Carolina

"Of all the girls that e'er were seen, there's none so fair as Nell."

Nell is not frivolous, neither is she too serious. She is a girl any one would want as a friend. Her place in our class is unique and could be held by none other. By her unselfishness she has endeared herself to all of us. She has proved her ability as a true comrade of work and play.

Class Poem

MANY years we've been together,
First in childhood, now in youth,
Trying to gain through education
Higher knowledge, skill and truth;
And the thoughts and happy memories
Of our friendships through the years,
So long we've been friends and schoolmates,
Thoughts of parting start our tears.

Four long years we've had to struggle,
Till at last we've reached our goal,
On the eve of graduation
Our grief at parting can't be told,
Bright yet untried seems our future,
Though yet untried we are in life,
Perseverance 'taught by schooling
Will prove equal to the strife.

To our instructors wise and patient,
We owe more than we can pay,
For they have helped with words of counsel
To mold our characters each day,
Other classes take our places,
To them the streams of knowledge flow,
Our last farewell, dear old High School,
We fondly bid you as we go.

MARTHA WASHBURN, '26.

Senior Class Song

(To tune of "Farewell to Thee.")

WHEN first we met on Cary soil,
We knew no others but ourselves;
But with time our friendship strong has grown,
And we hope years to come will guide it on.

These four years have seemed but as a day;
We've toiled yet all has e'er been gay;
With the sad there came the rays of light
That have guided us safely in the right.

We each have some feelings of regret,
As we see what we might have done,
But to think, we now will march alone,
Makes us love Cary High as ne'er before.

Cary High, we sing farewell to thee,
Our Alma Mater's name we praise,
To our friends who've stuck through thick and thin,
We will say: Farewell, farewell, farewell.

CHORUS

We sing farewell to Cary High,
To teachers, students and our friends;
And pledge today our loyalty
Until we meet again.

History of the Class of '26

IN the fall of 1922 a group of enthusiastic boys and girls mounted the steps of Cary High School to continue their ascent to knowledge. Some of us had come through graded school together, while others joined us that year, to begin the climb toward Graduation Peak.

We found, after a few days traveling, that the ascent ahead would be steep and difficult; therefore we held a conference to select a leader to command us on our journey. For this place we chose Levie Murdock. With our faith renewed we pushed forward, but as we marched on we encountered many unforeseen difficulties. As we tried to scale the heights of Latin and Arithmetic many fell to the depths below, but the majority pushed forward. One day we saw the Mount of Exams looming in the distance. We came closer and closer to this Mount. A few did not have strength enough to climb it; but most of us marched over and ran gaily down into the Valley of Vacation.

For four months we had a pleasant time traveling through this valley; but in September we saw in the distance another mountain higher than the first. Our commander called us together and we found many travelers of the previous year missing. Looking up the mountain we saw huge boulders of Cesar and Algebra, and realizing the need of an able commander we selected Ray Woodall and chose Miss Crow as our Adviser. While traveling a few were discouraged and stopped to await reinforcements. The rest pushed forward, scaling Mount Exam and Test. Upon reaching the Valley of Vacation, we looked back and were elated over our success.

Soon we came again to the foot of another high mountain. We chose Robert Curtis to guide us and Miss Ellis as our counselor. There were a few who stumbled and fell over the Cliffs of English and Chemistry, but the survival of the fittest entered the last Valley of Vacation.

After starting up Mount Graduation, we realized this trail would be the most treacherous of all. On one side of the trail were huge boulders of Geometry, Backwork and Exams; on the other were signs. "Beware of Failure!" There were times when we were despondent because it seemed to us that our efficient guides would give us no peace. At every turn they would say to us, "You must accomplish more today; if you do not, there is no chance for you to climb this mountain." We were called together many times by our commander, William Dry, to decide the best route to take, and had it not been for these councils, many of us would have fallen over the narrow cliffs. Finally we came to the most difficult part of our journey, Final Exams. Most of us pushed this last boulder aside and reached our destination, Graduation Peak.

On looking back over the long journey our hardships seem to dwindle and we remember the pleasures and rejoice at our accomplishments. We could not have made the journey the last year had not our adviser, Mr. Raper, stood by us so faithfully. It seems hard to realize the journey we started so bravely four years ago has been completed; but today we are leaving Cary High School with a heart full of love and thankfulness to her for what she has done for us.

Class Prophecy

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
April 23, 1936

AFTER graduating at Michael Reese Hospital and teaching for several years I have been appointed to make lectures over the United States, and today as I start on my tour I am thinking of my classmates of Cary High School and have resolved to keep a diary and write all I learn of them.

New-York City—While shopping today I was attracted by some pretty flowers; glancing at the sign I saw Nipper-Braswell Floral Shop. I went in to see Mary and Lorena and had a long talk. They told me Nell Waldo was starring in a famous picture. As her fame as an actress is known in every country I had to see her in her latest picture.

Richmond, Va.—Today I rejoiced with Benlah Allen when she told me she had just received her Ph.D. degree. Knowing that Olga Poplin was director of athletics at Koonz College, I called her and we had dinner together.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Tonight at the opera I heard a great soprano, Helen Davis.

Boston, Mass.—This evening while out for dinner some one called my name, and there was Kathryn Young, who is now teaching expression in Boston.

Washington, D. C.—Whom should I meet today as I stepped off the train, but Senator John Harris! He is our youngest Senator from North Carolina.

Columbia, S. C.—Today I had tea with Mrs. W. O. Hay, Jr., née Nancy Harden. She has been married some years and seems quite happy.

Raleigh, N. C.—Back in the dear old home town, how wonderful! I have just been to see Governor Evelyn Sherwin; she is very happy as she has her work running in a very satisfactory manner. Louise Johnson is still her "right-hand man." She is her Private Secretary and lives with her, as they could not live apart. Met Alton Fetner today, and he cannot tease me any more about being fat as he weighs over two hundred. He is known as the best insurance salesman in the South. Yesterday I went to Cary and the first person I saw was Mammie Campbell. She is happily married and told me Lucy Stephens, Cora Alice Gillespie and Reba Womble were married and living in Cary.

Atlanta, Ga.—When getting on a bus today the first person I saw was Robert Curtis. He is a dentist and enjoys a large practice.

Jacksonville, Fla.—While inquiring for the best place to buy fruit, I was delighted when informed that J. W. VanLandingham, Wholesale Dealer, would furnish me with the best in Florida.

Montgomery, Ala.—I was glad to see today, in the Montgomery Daily, that Dwight Bennett was listed as being one of the best and most progressive farmers in Alabama, and Melzer Morgan was head of the department of Agriculture.

Jackson, Miss.—As I walked out of the hospital this afternoon, I almost ran into Gertrude Straughan. She is teaching Science at Jackson College for Women.

CHSITE

Nashville, Tenn.—This morning one of the nurses asked me to accompany her to the courthouse to hear the verdict of a case. Just as we walked in a lawyer began to speak and I recognized "Bill" Harris. My surprise was still greater when I saw the judge to be Lonnie Batts.

Louisville, Ky.—Just as I came out of the Seminary today I met Gladys Blaylock. She told me she and Lola Northcutt had been teaching, but she expected to leave soon to do mission work in China.

St. Joseph, Mo.—While walking down town today I glanced at the bill board of one of the theaters and lo! my breath almost ceased, as I read that Carmel Ross, the second Mary Pickford, and William Dry, the second Valentino, were to play in their famous picture "Our Own." Of course I went to see the picture with Marta Selma Morgan and Juanita Franklin, who are teaching at St. Joseph College. Elaine Holleman and her husband, Wesley Williams, were sitting just in front of me.

Des Moines, Iowa—Just think of Wallace Shearon being Governor of Iowa! He deserves such a place, for he was always dependable.

Topeka, Kan.—James Bashaw is Mayor of Topeka, and Royce Ellington, President of the First National Bank of Topeka. They are very well satisfied, as Royce is married and is enjoying a splendid reputation. James is to be married next month to one of our classmates. (?)

Albuquerque, N. M.—While looking over a collection of books today I saw a new one written by Ruby Duke, a popular writer. Louise Whitlock is editor of True Story Magazine.

Reno, Nev.—Going to lunch today I saw a familiar looking person going into a store; I went in and who should it be but Elizabeth Wilkinson. She told me she was a lawyer and had no clients except divorcees. She had been granted three divorcees herself.

Sacramento, Cal.—Today I went to church to hear Radcliffe Caviness, a second "Billy Sunday," preach. Lucy Clyde Gray was in town. She is now a great musician, touring the United States. She told me Lucy Clifton was teaching Home Economics in Honolulu.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Judd Daniel is one of the greatest athletic coaches in the United States. He told me Martha Washburne was a beauty specialist in China and that Bessie Jackson was married and living in Los Angeles.

Dear little diary, I have seen or heard from all my classmates and I am indeed very happy to know how well each one is progressing. How glad I would be for all of us to gather again and discuss our different problems as we used to do at "twelve-thirty in room one."

MARGARET RAY,
Prophetess.

DEPARTMENTS

The Teacher Training Class

MISS LOUISE GILL.....Instructor

IN 1922 North Carolina followed the lead of other States and added Teacher Training as a department, in some of her high schools. Four departments were established that year and four more were formed in 1923. In 1924 five additional departments were added, making a total of thirteen in the State.

Superintendent A. T. Allen and Mrs. T. E. Johnston, Supervisor of Teacher Training, from their knowledge of the need of teachers in the elementary rural schools, worked out a course of study. Its purpose was to give one year of intense training in practice teaching to students who have graduated from high school. There is no charge for tuition.

One of the thirteen departments of Teacher Training was established at Cary High School in 1922. It is one of the best equipped in the State. The student teachers do their work in observation and practice teaching in the grades of the elementary school. A splendid library of professional books and other materials on instruction is provided for the student teachers by the county. The students prepare their work under the very best conditions.

"Good! Better! Best!
 May we never let it rest
 Until our good is better
 And our better best."

With such a motto our class in typewriting must continue to move forward with the weeks and the months until typewriting really becomes an art and each pupil taking the course becomes able to produce a perfect piece of typewritten matter, artistically arranged.

A 12,000 egg capacity incubator added to the Department is hatching chicks for the community, and numerous units of poultry, having one hundred pure bred hens each, are replacing the small flocks of scrubs on our farms. About fifteen new units have been added this spring. Coöperative buying and selling means cheaper feed for the community flocks and a better market for our products.

The 30'x50' Farms Shop under the gymnasium is equipped and is serving as a fine place to carry on farm construction work.

Evening Class Work with adult farmers and those interested in poultry has been conducted throughout the spring season at Cary and in other communities 'round-about. A Unit Course for students has been taught in one of the near by schools.

Of course our All Day Class Work has been building better farmers for the future and is being "Topped off" with an extended Agricultural Tour each Summer for the boys taking agriculture.

Physical Training

MISS MARJORIE DREIBACH.....Instructor

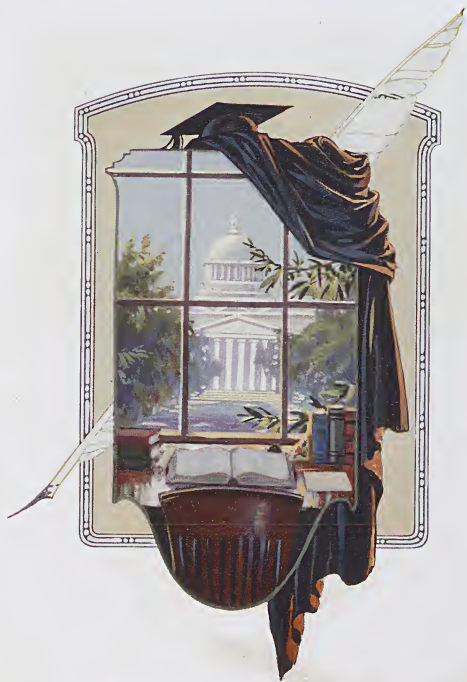

Knowing that the object of the school is to give the student a general education and to further an all-round and harmonious development of his faculties, and that this aim can only be realized if the education covers both the mental and physical side of the student's nature, Cary High School provides an excellent gym course.

Our gymnasium is new and the equipment consists of hand apparatus, climbing ropes, flying rings, stall bars, jumping standards, mats, a piano, and a portable vietrولا.

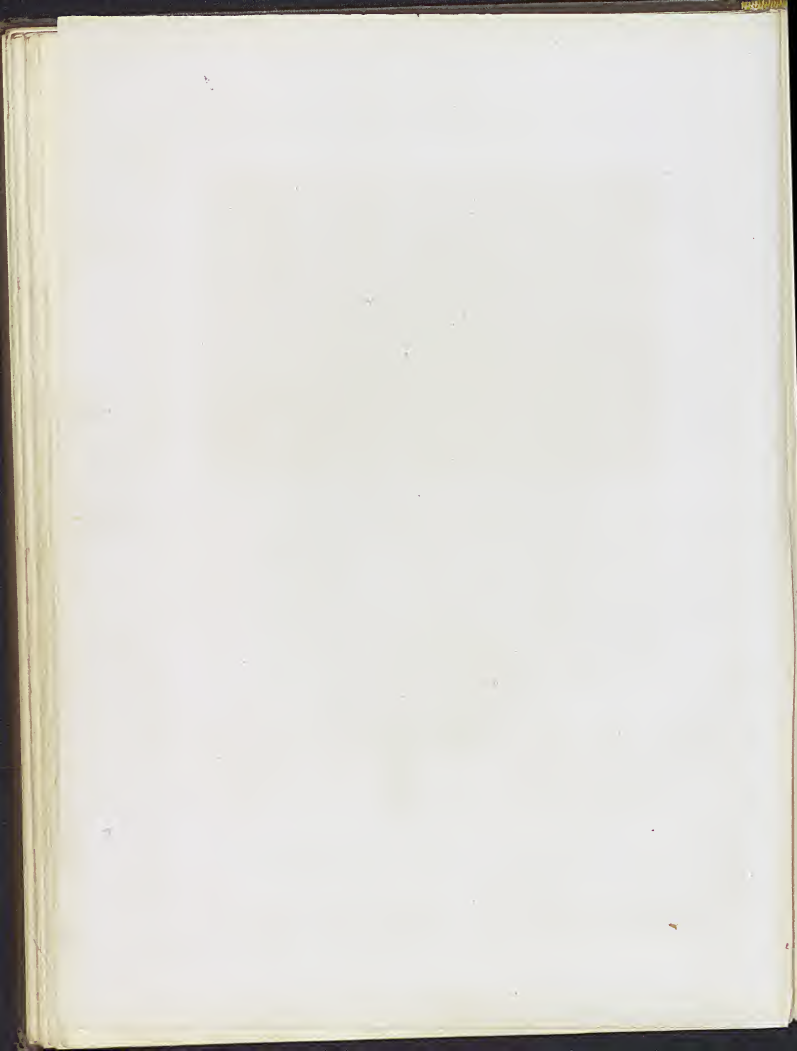

All forms of physical exercises are given, including free gymnastics, marching, running, mat work, jumping, folk dancing, mass games and apparatus work.

The students take an active part in and are interested in the work, therefore progress is being made in all phases of the course.

Football Squad

Football has proven to be a very popular sport at Cary High. During the past season the games played, were all moral victories, even if we did have a trying season. The team won a wonderful reputation during the season, by playing clean and fighting throughout the entire game.

The work of Captain Curtis was outstanding during the season, under the leadership of Coach Farrell, who played a prominent part in developing our team.

Here's hoping the team of '27 with hard work and determination will be a winner.

First Row—Olga Poplin, Margaret Winston, Mary Gladys Stephenson, Rosa Pleasants, Thelma McPhaul, Flora Williams, Annie Hayes.
 Second Row—Margaret Pleasants, Elizabeth Stephenson, Lois Ellington, Swannie Hunter. Third Row—Miss Driesback, Elizabeth Sorrell, Manager.

Girls' Basketball Team

To say we are grateful to the girls' basketball team for the untiring efforts put forth only expresses a part of our appreciation. They have proven the fact that an all-weather court is an asset to any team. Their victories show that much can be accomplished and many difficulties overcome by everlastingly striving.

We feel sure the team of '26-27 will be possessed with a determination to show their superiority in basketball playing.

First Row—Bill Harris, Alton Fetner, Judd Daniel, Captain; John Lawrence, Radcliff Caviness.
 Second Row—L. E. Raper, Coach; Bill Dry, Manager; Alex Houston, Fletcher Turner, B. B. Dalton, Athletic Director.

Boys' Basketball Squad

During the term of 1925-26, with its able coach, L. E. Raper, the interest in basketball has been renewed with enthusiasm and zest.

The basketball games have been well attended and lustily cheered. None less glorious in our athletic victories than in our spirit at the "dinner" given the team by Mrs. Dry immediately after each game won or lost, at which time players enjoyed the calm as though there had been a storm.

We regret to lose Daniels, Harris, Fetner, Caviness and Dry—because of their senior privileges—yet, they have been loyal workers and have ever shown good spirit, which is indicative of their characters. Remaining members of the squad are with you, fellows. Fight a new battle!

Our squad has been small, yet alive. The Pass Key into the basketball or other athletic squads is a minimum grade of 75 on work required in any regular course of study. What a pity the biggest man does not generally make the biggest grade!

First Row—Alton Fetner, Robert Curtis, Marvin Ford, Wallace Shearon, William Smith, Judd Dahlels, John L. Hester.
 Second Row—B. B. Dalton, Coach; William Pleasants, Olaf Holloway, Radeliff Caviness, Wilson Farrell, John Harris.

Promising Candidates for the 1926 Baseball Team

Baseball seems to be the most popular of all our athletics, and the prospects of a winning team for '26 are very bright. Captain Shearon has John Lee Hester, Marvin Ford, Judd Daniel and Robert Curtis, all letter men of last year, together with many promising candidates, from which to pick a snappy team, who will go out for the championship.

Miss Harville was explaining on English class that a pronoun took the place of a noun, when Wallace Shenon asked: "Is an incubator a pronoun?"

Miss H.: Why I should say not! It is strictly a noun.

SHARON: But it takes the place of a hen.

MR. DALTON? Have you been through Algeria?
LOUISE J.: Yes, but it was night and I did not see much of the place.

MISS PASHORE: What is your favorite book?
JAMES BARSHAW: My bunk book; but even that is lacking in interest these days.

HILL DEY: Fairly well. That was one picture that brought tears to my eyes.

MARGARET WYNSTON: Ah, a pathetic subject, I suppose?

HILL: No. I was sitting under it when the cord broke and it fell on my head.

MISS KING: I labeled my trunks "China," and thought they would handle them with unusual care.

MISS NICHOLS: And did they?
MISS KING: I don't know yet. They shipped them all the way to Shanghai, and I haven't seen them since.

Upon finishing reading the body of a letter, Bill Harris sat down.

MISS HARVILLE: Where is your complimentary close?

HILL: Beg pardon, my foot went to sleep.

THE PROPER RETORT

MR. ROLLER: One of them smart city fellows tried to sell me the Woolworth building?

STUDENT: And what did you say?

MR. ROLLER: I said, all right young fellow, wrap it up.

MR. DEY: Why are you in such a bad humor, son?

WILLIAM: I've just had trouble with your wife.

SHOWED APPROVAL

MR. BALL: Do you think they approved of my sermon?

MRS. BALL: Yes, they were all nodding.

"Now that you two are one," began the minister at Mr. Koller's marriage—

"Which one?" asked the bride.

"Ah," said the minister, "you must find that out for yourselves."

RUTH CATHEY: What's that cow got the bell tied around her neck for?

ALICE W.: That's to tell the calf when dinner's ready.

MR. RAPER: Oh yes, tell 'em all you know; it won't take very long.

MR. MERRINS: I'll tell 'em all we both know; it won't take any longer.

MR. ROLLER: I forgot my umbrella this morning, dear.

MRS. ROLLER (sarcastically): However did you come to remember you had forgotten it?

MR. ROLLER: Well, I should not have missed it, dear, only I raised my hand to shut it when the rain ceased.

MISS HARVILLE: What would you do if you were in my shoes?

MISS BURT: I'd shine 'em.

After wrangling some time over the question as to what kind of inscription to place on the tombstone of her late husband, the old lady sank in despair. Just then the tombstone man suggested: "How would just simple 'Gone Home' do?"
"I guess that will be all right," said the widow, "home was the last place he thought of going."

FIRST FLAPPER: I never cross my knees in the street car.

SECOND FLAPPER: Neither do I; it's getting too cold to roll 'em.

PROFESSOR: Which are the uttermost parts of the earth?

STUDENT: The parts where there are the most women.

HE: Do you know last year the doctor told me if I did not stop smoking I would be feeble-minded.

SHE: Why didn't you stop.

MISS NICHOLS: Yes, dear, the lace on this dress is forty years old.

E. SHERWIN: You don't say! Did you make it yourself?

W. WILLIAMS: Two milkshakes.

PHILLIPS (later): Change mine to a limeade.
ADAMS: What do you think this is? A sight of hand show?

HILL BIRD: I did not know you were a local girl.

WILMA: I'm not slow, if that's what you mean.

HAYWOOD: This is some vamp.
BILL DRY: How come? Been out with her?
ROBERTS: Naw, I saw her rolling eyes in a needle factory.

Humpty Dumpty sat on a bench,
Along came a nifty and likable wench.
All the king's men marching in parade
Couldn't keep Humpty Dumpty from necking the maid.

LANKY LAWRENCE: Thish match won't light.
GOAT FREEMAN: Washa madda with it?
LANKY: I duuno, it lit all right a minute ago.

HOUSTON: Came near selling my shoes today.
TURNER: How come,
HOUSTON: Had 'em half-soled.

WANTED TO KNOW
Who found "Spoodle"?
Who will help Joseph Wilson VanLandingham loaf?
Who has the right time?

MR. ROLLER: We will soon be studying the true flowering plants. You have one there now, what is the name of it?

EDNA: Kiss me and I'll tell you.
MR. ROLLER (shaking his head): I'm married.

Miss Nichols's first effort on the typewriter:
"my dear, iwill, write i-KU"

SENIEE ENGLISH
In she came.
Down she sat;
Saw the questions
Up she got.

J. ROLLER: You have had science, haven't you?
BOOB: No.
J. R: Well, you've at least been exposed to it.

A little rouge, a little curl,
A powder box, a pretty girl;
A bit of rain, away it goes—
A different girl, with freckled nose.

DR. HUNTER (upon looking at the engine of his broken down car): Hand me my stethoscope, Ivo, I think it has a palpitation.

MR. RAVER: Miss, may I have a spoon?
PRETTY WAITRESS: Not with me, I'm busy.

DELIVERING COAL BY WIRE

Even in this age of miracles, people would hardly credit the assertion if they were told that invisible coal and water are being delivered by wire.

Yet that is exactly what this and every other public utility in the nation is doing every hour of the day and night.

It requires millions of tons of coal and millions of gallons of water to generate the electricity which provides light or drives the motors of industry. Invisible coal also is transported in pipes when gas is used.

In hundreds of other ways the utilities invisibly serve their customers, cheaper and better than they could serve themselves.

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to interpret the ideas of the Staff and create in material form their vision.

From the art work and engravings to the finished book, this volume is the result of organized cooperation with the Staff.

Such able cooperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete cooperation from art work and engravings to the finished book, we offer unexcelled service. Complete service means undivided responsibility as to the result—one organization to correspond and talk with—one trained director to merge the many ingredients into the finished product.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
